Wood & MDF Door Styles

ONE STYLE Four Options

Design-Craft makes it easy to transcend the everyday with a wide selection of door options. Start by selecting a door frame, then choose your center panel—raised, beaded, flat, or reverse raised. Raised panel suits classic styling, beaded offers quaint and casual warmth, and flat or reverse raised panel looks streamlined and simplified.

Add interest to your design by using one panel style for the kitchen perimeter and accent with a different center panel for the island. With panel options available on a variety of Design-Craft doors, it's fun and easy to create looks for every personality and architectural style.

Wood Species & MDF

Paintable MDF is a great alternative to maple. Painted MDF gives a stylish, consistent look that is durable and more resistant to warping, expansion, and contraction than solid hardwoods.

MDF
(Medium Density Fiberboard)

The rustic nature of this light brown wood showcases pin knots, open and closed knots, and mineral streaks that are embedded in uniform straight-grain patterns.

KNOTTY ALDER

The unique cutting of this oak creates close-knit vertical grain patterns that display a textured and figured appearance. Oak ranges in color from light tan to brown.

QUARTERSAWN OAK

MAPLE

CHERRY

OAK

HICKORY

The smooth texture and uniform grain patterns have a visible color range of creamy white to varying shades of brown, and turns amber with age.

The esteemed look of cherry ranges from light pink to varying shades of brown, and deepens in color with age.

Arching grain patterns are typical of the classic oak species. Natural wood colors range from light tans to dark reds and browns.

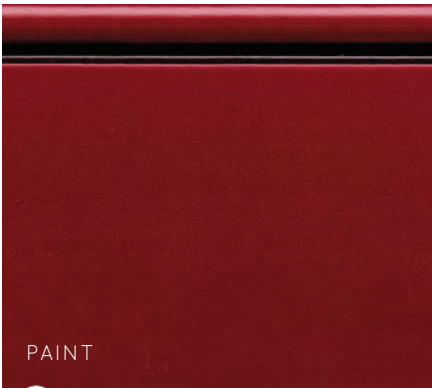

Bold, prominent grain patterns are characteristic of hickory. Additional features include: burls, pin knots, mineral streaks, and small sound knots.

Wood Finishes

STAIN

Let the natural beauty of your chosen wood shine through. Accentuate door details with Highlight Only or add dimension with a hand-applied Glaze and Highlight.

PAINT

Give your cabinetry a smooth, uniform finish with Classic paint shades, or add character with hand-brushed Highlight Only or Glaze and Highlight options.

SPECIALTY

These one-of-a-kind finishes are created by skilled artisans through multi-step processes including hand brushing, color-washing, and/or distressing.

Glaze Options

► STAIN & PAINT

HIGHLIGHT ONLY

Hand-brushing glaze on doors, drawer fronts, molding, and accessories accents and defines detail without changing the overall base color.

GLAZE AND HIGHLIGHT

▼ PLYWOOD

We ensure that our plywood meets or exceeds the highest standards for air quality, including TSCA Title VI and CARB emissions standards.

For plywood upgrade cabinets, we use only the highest grade materials, including two types of plywood:

- Traditional plywood with an all-fir-crossband core has an ideal strength-to-weight ratio for many cabinet parts, so it is used for end panels, shelves, stretchers, hanging rails, etc.
- Engineered plywood with an MDF crossband core creates a superior surface for accepting stains and paints, so it is used for finished surfaces such as finished ends and matching finished interiors.
